RUSSIANS FLEE BEFORE POLES

Brest-Litovsk Recaptured And Whole Red Army In Poland May Be Trapped—Thanksgiving At Warsaw—Reds Claim Successes In Galicia.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Warsaw, Aug. 19, via London, Aug 20.—A gigantic encircling move is being swiftly carried out by the Polish army between Brest Litovsk and Dembli and dispatches from the front today indicate that the bulk of the Russian army in Poland was in danger of being cut off, if this has not already been accomplished.

The Poles are reported to have captured the great fortress of Brest Litovsk.

A general Polish advance along the entire 500 miles of battle front is momentarily expected.

The Russians are falling back in disorder north and east of Warsaw.

The Poles have captured more than 10,000 prisoners and vast quantities of guns and ammunition.

The foreign missions which left Warsaw for Posen have been advised to return as all danger to this city is now past.

The archbishop of Warsaw has ordered a day of thanksgiving with prayers to celebrate the deliverance of the city.

The defeat of the red army was due to the skilful plans of the French and British army officers who are directing Polish operations.

(Note—This is the first revelation that British officers have been taking an active part in aiding the Poles. Previous dispatches referred only to French army officers.)

Polish airmen report grerat confusion behind the Russian lines. It is believed the reds will not be able to rally for another attempt against Warsaw.

While the Russian advance towards the Vistula has been brought to a standstill and the Russians are being thrown back at many points on the front, the soviet army in Galicia is attempting to attack to divert the attention of the Poles.

The Russians that have been threatening Lemberg have crossed the Bug river.

Paris, Aug. 20.—A Paris correspondent in a dispatch to his paper today quoted General Weygand, head of the French military mission to Poland, as saying:—

"If the Polish commanders know how to profit from this victory, the whole Russian army can be put out of business."

Constantinople, Aug. 20.—The whole Russian army on the southern (Crimean) front has increased its pressure against the army of General Wrangel and was reported today to be advancing along the entire front.

Violent fighting is in progress between the Bolsheviki and General Wrangel's "white" forces southwest of Oriekov, in the vicinity of Kahova. The Reds have been reinforced.

REDS MAKE KNOWN TERMS AT MINSK

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, Aug. 20.—The Polish and Russian armistice and peace plenipotentiaries at Minsk have held a second meeting and adopted a program for further discussions, according to official advices received by the French foreign office today. No further details have been received.

Foreign officials believe that the Russians purposely cut off the Polish envoys' communication with Warsaw to conceal the military defeat of the Russian army.

M. Jusserand, of the French mission to Poland, and Lord D'Abernon, of the British mission, are returning to Warsaw from Posen.

The French foreign office has been informed from Sebastopol that General Wrangel has resumed his offensive against the Bolsheviki in southern Russia.

London, Aug. 20.—At the second session of the Russo-Polish armistice and peace negotiations at Minsk on Thursday, the Russian terms were outlined in detail to the Polish envoys, said an official dispatch from the Soviet government at Moscow today. The terms are the same as those made known by M. Kamenoff in London.

ALMIRALL SALE ORDERED.

Kingston Attorney Wins Case Involving Unusual Point of Law.

The supreme court of Kings county has granted the petitions of Juan A. Almirall of New York city, Leon V. Almirall of Denver, Mrs. Nina L. Royall of New Mexico and Mrs. Marie de Foucaucourt of Paris, for leave to sell various parcels of Brooklyn real property in which they have a life interest. Gilbert F. Kennedy of this city is the attorney for all the petitioners in the proceedings which are brought under sections of the Real Property Law of this state which permit real property in which one has a life estate to be sold in certain cases. Two of the title insurance companies have contended that these sections do not cover cases where there may be unknown persons living today who may have an interest in the property and who have not been notified or who have not consented, and therefore the sections are unconstitutional since vested rights may be divested without due process of law. The attorney for the petitioners has claimed that all known parties in interest have been notified, that all known adults in interest have consented, that the sections are constitutional and apply to these cases. Pursuant to the final order just granted, the properties will now be sold and the proceeds held in trust by the Brooklyn Trust Company, the income to be paid to the petitioners during their lives and upon their death the fund will be distributed to those entitled to it. The proceedings are unusual, and they have been closely followed by all the title companies and by lawyers and others interested in real property law.

DOUBLE SHOOTING AT ELK CREEK

Mrs. Anna Glenn Van Patten, a well known resident of Oneonta, is dead and George Brazee, aged 67 years, is fatally wounded as the result of a shooting affray at the former's home in Elk Creek early Wednesday morning. Mrs. Van Patten was shot by Brazee, who was in turn shot by Guy Hughes, now being held in the county jail at Cooperstown.

The shooting was the result of a quarrel that started over the price received for a dozen eggs by Mrs. Van Patten. Several bottles of Horke Vino and a dozen bottles of beer or near bear also figure prominently in the story.

In the morning Brazee is said to have started the quarrel and when Hughes took Mrs. Van Patten's part, Brazee left the room. Returning in a short time with a .38 calibre revolver he fired two shots at Mrs. Van Patten, both taking effect in the woman's abdomen. She fled from the room. Brazee then fired two shots at Hughes, neither of which took effect. By this time Hughes had started for the stairway and drawing a .32 calibre revolver fired at Brazee. One bullet was deflected by a parrot cage and the other hit Brazee in the chest. Brazee, not felled by the shot, rushed from the room, returning in a few seconds with a single barreled shot gun. Hughes fled from the room, barricading himself in his room where he was found by the officers.

On the arrival of the Oneonta officers, Brazee was placed under arrest and taken to the Fox Hospital. It is understood that Mrs. Van Patten made a statement just before her death accusing Brazee of shooting her. This is the second time that Brazee shot the woman. In October, 1902, after a quarrel with Mrs. Van Patten, who was then his wife, he shot her, inflicting a scalp wound. For this offense he served a term in Auburn prison.

PUTTING IT DOWN.

Prohibition Agent Says He Is Being Slowly Poisoned.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 20—"Putting down liquor" constitutes the routine duty of some Federal agents here.

These agents interpret this phrase literally.

Morning, noon and night these government officials swallow the illegal stuff.

It's a pessimistic story one of these men tells.

"When we are assigned to a case for investigation we are told we must buy drinks to prove our charge that the alleged offender, or offenders have been illegally trafficking in intoxicants," he said.

"Of course, the government pays for these drinks, but think of the stuff that we have to drink.

"I know I am being slowly poisoned. I am walking to my own funeral.

"It used to take ten years for a heavy drinker of whiskey to loose his balance in life. I have been at this job six months and I am all wrong already.

"Raisin jack, white mule and the other brands of illicit and adulterated liquors are proving to me that they were never intended for a man's stomach.

"We never drink enough to get drunk. We just add something each day to the slow poisoning process."

The truthfulness of this tale is found in the dull eyes and deepened lines in the faces of these Federal inspectors.

DAUGHERTY AND HAYS IN ACCORD

No Friction, Says Former—Campaign, Conducted by Hays, to Continue in Orderly Fashion—Candidate's Paper Speaks to Labor and Farmers.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 20 —Harry M. Daugherty, manager of the pre-convention campaign of Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for president,, today stamped as "without foundation" reported friction between him and Republican National Chairman Will H. Hays.

Reports have been in circulation here for some time that Daugherty was dissatisfied because he had not been made Republican national chairman after his successful efforts to have Senator Harding nominated.

Coupled with the same reports was one that Daugherty did not like the way Senator Harding's campaign was being conducted.

Daugherty today issued a statement, which was, in part, as follows:

"The committee at all times must be in harmony with the candidate and the cause.

"As far as the plans of the Republican party are concerned, they will go on in an orderly fashion as laid out from time to time by Chairman Hays and the committee in conference with the candidate."

Daugherty also said that "without assuming to speak for anybody" but himself neither "bombast" nor "personalities" would be employed in the conduct of Senator Harding's campaign.

"A campaign of personalities may not be expected, nor a campaign which appeals to prejudice, but rather a campaign of dignity—and in harmony with the temperament of the candidate and the dignity of the position to which he aspires."

Through the colums of his newspaper, the Marion Star, Senator Harding's labor and agricultural position was defined as follows.

"The 5,000 operatives in Marion's industrial plants have given Harding enthusiastic support as have Marion's farmers.

"Harding never said: 'A dollar a day is enough for any working man' or anything that may be so construed, or 'a dollar a bushel is enough for the farmers' wheat.'"

NEXT DRIVE FOR CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Republican Campaign Funds To Be Solicited By Committeemen and Delegates, In Accordance With Plan of National Committee.

All the delegates who attended the recent unofficial Republican county convention at the Kingston Opera House, as well as the Republican county committeemen in each election district, will receive notices within a few days from County Chairman Philip Elting of the Republican county committee, urging them to bestir themselves in collecting the proportion of campaign funds which he has apportioned to their respective localities.

County Chairman Elting's announcement that this work would be undertaken by the delegates as well as committeemen was made at the convention, following the speech of Senator W. J. Tully, who made a plea for funds. Ulster county's proportion of the campaign fund will be about $6,000, and it has been apportioned among the various election districts of the county.

The notices to be issued to delegates and committeemen by County Chairman Elting will call attention to the statement made by Senator Warren G. Harding, the Republican candidate for president, on July 30th, when he said:

"The Republican management has undertaken in all good faith to raise a truly popular campaign fund. It is believed that this will be accomplished, and, if so, it will be a most notable advance in political management. It is true that with the number of voters substantially doubled by reason of woman suffrage, and with the great increase in expense of campaigning, a good deal of money will be required to carry on an effective appeal to the people. Nevertheless, the Republicans have undertaken to raise the money in small amounts by popular subscription. They hope to succeed.

"The Democrats flout any such suggestion, and at the very outset of the campaign proclaim they have no intention of attempting such a reform. They will discover before election day that the country is not prepared to approve their program of unlimited campaign funds. Undoubtedly it is quite true that certain powerful international interests, which are deeply concerned in carrying out the present administration's foreign policy, are prepared to contribute most liberally to the Democratic fund. Undoubtedly it is true, too, that without such contributions, the Democrats would find it very difficult to raise the funds they need. Popular campaign funds are not easily raised for unpopular causes, and the effect to hitch America to the present administration's program constitutes anything but a popular cause."

VICTORY MEDALS THROUGH LEGION

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Aug. 20.—To facilitate distribution of Victory Medals in which the war department has enlisted the cooperation of the American Legion, Adjutant General P. C. Harris has announced that a copy of the war department's official battle area map will be forwarded to each of the 9,400 local posts of the Legion, which are situated in every community in the United States and in nineteen insular possessions and foreign countries.

"The map will be of great value as an aid to determining eligibility for battle awards in the issue of the Victory Medal," writes the adjutant general in the letter to Franklin D'Olier, national commander of the Legion. "This office also is pleased too state that since the arrival at mutual understanding concerning the responsibilities of the American Legion and the recruiting service the matter of distribution of Victory Medals has been progressing nicely."

Notwithstanding the improvement in the situation noted by the adjutant general there still is a good deal of misunderstanding on the part of veterans as to the steps necessary to procure their medals and the arrangements under way for the formal presentation of the medals, which will take place on November 11.

There are two means by which ex-service men may apply for their decorations. The easiest method is to apply to any post of the American Legion. The war department has authorized post commanders to draw official application forms. These forms can be executed at post headquarters. Legion officials will forward them to the proper sources. The other way to get a medal is to apply at any recruiting station.

There is only one way which a veteran may share in the formal presentation ceremonies, the arrangements for which are in entire charge of the local Legion officials in each community. Unless otherwise specified all medals applied for through Legion channels will be delivered to the Legion post of the veteran's choice and retained there until Armistice Day, when the formal presentations will be held simultaneously throughout the country. Veterans who apply for their medals through the recruiting service will receive them by mail at their homes. If they desire to participate in the Armistice Day ceremonies they should deposit their medals with a Legion post.

The Legion makes no distinction between members and non-members in the Victory Medal distribution. By the terms of the agreement with the war department all ex-service men may apply for their decorations through Legion channels and participate in the Armisticee Day celebrations under Legion auspices. Special arrangements are being made to get medals to gold-star mothers and other next of kin who are privileged to receive the decorations of men who died in the service.

Who is responsible for pneumatic truck tire service

NOT every truck is adapted to pneumatic tires.

But if yours is, give it tires that are truck tires.

Otherwise there is waste—and extravagance.

U. S. Nobby Cords are pneumatic truck tires—not enlarged automobile tires.

Created by men who have devoted the best part of their lives to studying trucking conditions—and making the tires to meet them.

Men who introduced pneumatic truck tires long before the need for them was realized by truck owners generally.

One of the results of the forward-looking policy of the United States Rubber Company—of which we are proud to be the pneumatic truck tire representatives in this important truck center.

MUST BE SIMPLE

Modified Styles Replace Modes of Extravagance

Love of Ornamentation Cannot Be Suppressed; Yellow Is Appearing for Mid-Summer Clothes.

It is interesting, comments a fashion correspondent, to observe the simplicity that is replacing the extreme extravagance that directly followed the war—an extravagance in the wake of which came a mass of ill assorted fashions. We have had during the last two years many styles positively grotesque, such as the long narrow skirts, so narrow that their wearers looked like cripples hobbling along.

Down through the centuries history shows that every period of extreme dressing has been followed by one of simplicity. There is little likelihood that dress will remain simple for any length of time. While there is always the reaction from an extreme, the love of ornamentation cannot be suppressed. Dress began, not as a covering for the body, but as an ornament. The primitive savage adorned his body with the juices of berries long before he thought of a covering.

Yellow is appearing in a great many of the clothes for midsummer wear. Two shades of yellow and sometimes three or four are combined in the same costume. Yellow is distinctly a summer color, and has always been a favorite in hot climates.

A combination of several shades of yellow appears in chiffon evening frocks. It makes one cool to think of such a dress. One just completed by a fashionable dressmaker has the skirt composed of petals, one shade placed over another. It ranges from palest lemon to deepest apricot, and is sashed with a wide apricot colored satin ribbon. The bodice topping this frilly skirt is just a simple band of satin to match the sash with a wispy bit of lemon colored chiffon draped over it.

An evening hat to accompany this dress is of the apricot colored chiffon. Dripping from the brim are long stemmed pale yellow blossoms and green leaves.

All the nasturtium shades are combined with copper color. Even the florists appear to be co-operating with the dressmakers or else the dressmakers are co-operating with the florists, for one sees the very same shades blended with great skill in the florist windows.

NEW BLOUSE OF TRICOLETTE

This blouse of tricolette is odd in its design. It is of blue and white tricolette with half sleeves of navy georgette.

HATS REQUIRE SPECIAL CARE

Removal of Dust After Wearing Is Important in Keeping Headgear in Best of Condition.

Not only because it is an economy, but also because the condition of the hat and the way it is worn will make or mar your appearance, your hats should be properly cared for.

After each wearing, the hat should be carefully brushed with a soft brush to remove all dust from the hat itself and from the folds of the trimming. A piece of velvet should be used instead of a brush for silk or satin hats. If the hat is of straw, a cloth dipped in alcohol may be used to remove the dust.

For a hat with a brim which is easily marred, a hat stand is an essential. It may be made from a strip of heavy paper about nine or ten inches wide and rolled so as to be narrower at the top than at the base. Tissue paper laid over the top of the hat will protect it from dust. For the "best" hat a dustproof box should be provided.

Hats that have been badly wet and dried may often be improved by careful steaming. Hold the hat over the spout of a steaming teakettle or over a wet cloth placed on a hot inverted pan.

An Unusual Garden Hat.

An unusual garden hat is of brown lace straw trimmed with brown and yellow gray morning glories.

KINGSTON, N. Y., AUG. 20, 1920.

A judge in Dallas, Texas, fined a local iceman $10 for each pound of ice under weight delivered to purchasers. If that principle were applied proportionately to the Democratic party with relation to its platforms of 1912 and 1916, there would be no campaign fund left with which to exhibit the Tammany Tiger's cub, Mr. Cox.

The Plumb Plan proposes government ownership of the railroads with management and operation by the employes. That is practically what they have in Russia, under Bolshevism, which is ruled by the proletariat. Reports from Russia contain the information that "an enormous staff of employes (about six thousand), for the most part loafing about, doing nothing," is employed, and "it was discovered that 125 employes were actually not serving at all but received a salary the same as the others. The working capacity of the employes is ridiculously low; the average correspondence per typist was one letter outward and one inward per day." That is radically different from the high standard attained in America under the policy of private ownership and competition in service. Under the system of private ownership, any man in the service, from section hand up, had a chance to work to the highest position, and every man took pride in the excellent service of the road by which he was employed. That esprit de corps suffered some check during government operation, but it is being rapidly restored.

According to the Mount Pleasant, Texas, Daily Hustler, a revenue officer and a local constable have "captured a 130-gallon still, seven barrels of mash and 400 gallons of whiskey on Senator Morris Sheppard's farm in Morris county." It is further stated that "the still was brought to Mount Pleasant on a truck and is now on display in the First National Bank. So vast a store and the means of adding to it at need rather looks toward manufacture for sale. But even if the senator can prove intent of home consumption only by pointing to a numerous progeny and a large family connection, he will still find himself embarrassed as an ostentatious "dry" and leader in the fight for prohibition. He might of course hint at a "frame-up" by his "wet" opponents, but few can believe that in these times 400 gallons of liquid treasure would be sacrificed for such a purpose. The true explanation is doubtless presented by the New York Times when it observes that "some of the most valorous of the Texas drys have allowed it to be known that they want liquor prohibited to the general public, but are entirely willing to have it for themselves and their friends."

EVERY LITTLE HELPS.

For some time the consumer has been inclined to despair, believing that he was in the grip of remorseless profiteers and that nothing could set him free. Words of hope merely irritate him, after he has listened to these so often in vain. Nevertheless from the consumer's point of view there does seem a rather more promising outlook now than for some time past. The abundant crops, reliably forecasted, ought to help a little, and there would seem to be some promise of relief in the reported slump in the "luxury wave" with consequent beginning of decline in retail prices.

According to a special Washington dispatch, economic conditions now appear to indicate that war inflation is subsiding. Wholesale prices have dropped an average of 1 per cent in thirty days. Luxury tax receipts are falling off, and government officials are quoted as saying this is an indication that the national wave of extravagance has passed, to such extravagance being attributed in part the high prices and profiteering.

One interesting indication of the slump in luxury buying is the complaint of candy merchants all over the country that their business is falling off. Candy factories are asking for licenses to sell sugar which they are now stocked up with in unnecessary quantities. Such sales in surplus sugar, a government official is quoted, "should tend to reduce prices." The change from the causes indicated may be slight for some time, but every little helps.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

A Thoughtful Captain.

"The captain of our ship going out proved to be a thoughtful man," said a returned tourist.

"How so?"

"As soon as we crossed the three-mile limit after leaving port he ordered the ship's siren blown to let everybody on board know it was safe to take a drink."

Only a Pose.

Dick—I think Edith will make a fine wife. I have been calling on her for six months now and nearly always have found her darning her father's socks.

Jack—That caught me, too, until I found out that it was the same sock.

The Call of the Wild.

West—"Why did Briggs give up his garden?"

North—"He was digging in it and struck a lot of fishing worms."

Figuratively Correct.

"'At niggah is some athlete."
"How come?"
"He run the mile in two flat."
"Minutes?"
"Naw! Feet."

Four-year-old Mary had just come home from Sunday school and Uncle Ted was asking her what they did there. "Oh, a teacher talked and a man prayed and we sang," she exclaimed. "There was one song I liked. It is—" she studied a minute—"it is 'Turn the lights on in the basement.'" Uncle Ted was surprised. That didn't sound exactly like a Sunday school song. A little later Mary's older sister cleared up the situation. The song sung was "Let the Lower Lights be Burning."

COTTEKILL.

Cottekill, Aug. 19.—The lawn social which was to be held on the lawn of the M. E. Church on Tuesday evening, was repeated on Wednesday evening on account of bad weather Tuesday evening.

A number from here attended the clam bake at Stone Ridge Wednesday evening.

T. L. Sheeley returned with a large drove of cattle Tuesday evening.

There are still a number of summer boarders at the boarding houses.

The location of the post office has been changed being now in Locke's store.

Mrs. George Van Wagenen spent Tuesday at Kingston.

This place is getting almost isolated from the city of Kingston on account of the deplorable condition of the Boulevard in the city. The roads through this village and the village of Binnewater are also greatly in need of repairs. A few days' work by the commissioner in the village of Binnewater would greatly help. Then, perhaps, the city will do some real work on the Boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. Garton Keator, Mr. and Mrs. James Snyder, Simon DuBois, Jr., and A. J. Keator motored to Margaretville Sunday, spending the day with Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Depuy there.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Snyder of Kingston motored to this village Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Guido Bock and mother of New York are spending their vacation at Mr. Bock's summer home here.

Mrs. Jacob Barley is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barley at Rock Rift.

Miss Vera Barley, who has been spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. J. A. Keator, at Samsonville, has returned to her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Van Vliet of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Snyder of Poughkeepsie spent the week end with their parents here.

The heavy rains of the past week have caused much havoc around here to the crops. Harvesting has been held up and fruit trees damaged. Unless we have a spell of clear weather oats and buckwheat will be ruined, probably potatoes will rot.

LACKAWACK.

Lackawack, Aug. 19.—It was with sorrow that we heard of the death of Daniel Depew of Napanoch.

CITY PROTESTS NEW PHONE RATES

Asks That Public Service Commission After Investigation Declare Them Excessive and Fix Reasonable Rates.

Corporation Counsel William D. Brinnier on Thursday filed the following complaint with the public service commission against the proposed increase in telephone rates:

The City of Kingston, by Palmer Canfield, Jr., its mayor, for a complaint against the New York Telephone Company, alleges and shows to the public service commission, Second district, as follows:

I. That the city of Kingston is a municipal corporation duly organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the state of New York; that Palmer Canfield, Jr., whose address is city hall, Kingston, New York, is the duly elected and acting mayor of the city of Kingston; that William D. Brinnier, city hall, Kingston, New York, is the duly appointed and acting corporation counsel and attorney for the petitioner.

II. That telephone service within the limits of the city of Kingston is furnished by the New York Telephone Company, and that the corporate name under which said company does business in the city of Kingston, so far as your petitioner is informed, is New York Telephone Company.

III. That on or about July 28th, 1920, said New York Telephone Company filed with the public service commission, Second district, schedules of rates for various forms of telephone service, in the city of Kingston to become effective on September 1, 1920; that the schedules of rates so filed increase the rates to be charged in the city of Kingston by said New York Telephone Company from and after September 1, 1920; that for a precise statement of the increased rates fixed by the said schedules, your petitioner refers to the schedules filed with the public service commission, Second district, by the New York Telephone Company on or about July 28, 1920, to become effective September 1, 1920, with the same force and effect as if the complete schedules were set forth herein.

IV. That all of the rates and charges fixed by the said schedule of rates filed on July 28, 1920, and to become effective September 1, 1920, so far as they relate to the city of Kingston, are unjust, unreasonable and excessive.

Wherefore, your petitioner prays that the aforesaid rates for telephone service in the city of Kingston, as fixed by the schedule filed by the New York Telephone Company on July 28, 1920, which becomes effective September 1, 1920, may be reviewed and investigated by the public service commission, Second district, that they may be declared to be unjust, excessive and unreasonable and that they may be reduced to such rates as may be determined to be reasonable, just and lawful by the public service commission, Second district.

Dated August 19th, 1920.

Respectfully submitted,
THE CITY OF KINGSTON,
By Palmer Canfield, Jr., Mayor.

DO YOU EVER READ PATENT MEDICINE ADS?
They talk a lot about women's sore backs, etc.
Well, there's many a bottle of that kind of "dope" been sold to cure sore backs caused by old-fashioned, unsanitary, low kitchen sinks.
Moreover, there's been many a sore back cured by a modern, sanitary, one-piece sink. Easy to keep clean and vermin proof. They're not expensive.

ARTHUR RULAND RED MEN'S CHIEF

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 20.—New York state Red Men closed their forty-eighth "Big Sun" session Thursday afternoon with the election and installation of Arthur Ruland of Binghamton as great sachem of the state. The election ended in a great ovation for Mr. Ruland, and Nicholas I. Timeson, of Schenectady the retiring great sachem, who will step into the office of great prophet. The selection of Binghamton as the next convention city, and the increase of thirty-three cents in the individual tax marked the closing session.

Philip Danner of Buffalo, who opposed William Malone of New York, furnished the only contest of the election and was elected great junior sagamore. Mr Danner was supported by the entire delegation from the west end of the state, and rolled up a big majority. Mr. Malone's vote came mostly from the New York delegates

Other officers elected were: Great senior sagamore, John Y. Fisher, of Brooklyn; great keeper of wampum, Edward A. Davis of New York; great keeper of records, Edward J. Boyd; great trustee, Henry Williams of Saugerties.

In fixing the individual tax, the delegates voted a thirty-five cent fee for the orphan fund, ten cents for the great council and a forty-five cent fee for the general fund of the great council. The total per capita tax represents a thirty-three cent increase over last year.

Binghamton was unanimously choosen as the next convention city. This city is the home of Great Sachem Ruland, and a special session is scheduled for the convention next year. Before closing the delegates voted to increase the expense account of the great sachem from $900 to $1,500 a year.

Bat Causes Accident.

A bat flying through the partly open windshield of the automobile of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Samelson, caused an accident in New Windsor which almost cost the couple their lives. By the narrowest possible margin they escaped disaster in going over the 15 foot wall at Coe's Pond, where the stream runs under the highway leading to Vail's Gate. Both were shaken up somewhat but escaped serious injury.

Young Tigers Won.

The Young Tigers defeated the Red Clippers for the third time by the score of 6 to 4. The winners' lineup was: Walter Holsapple, c; Arthur Steltz, p; George Hovers, 1b; Frank Burger, 2b; Arthur Ahl, 3b; Philip Peters, ss; Edward Horvers, cf; William Osterhoudt, lf; Philip Maines, rf. The losers battery was Frank Cullen and John Weiss, p; Joseph Gallagher, c.

He Slept in Gutter.

While Michael Ahern was sitting in the gutter near the ferry house on Front street, Newburgh, the other day he fell asleep, and while he slept a wagon passed over his feet. He awoke immediately but felt no bad effects. Later, however, his feet began to pain and he was taken to a hospital.

Fox's Car Found.

Early this morning Henry E. Fox reported to police headquarters that his Davis touring car had been stolen from the Stuyvesant garage some time during the night. A little later the car was found parked in front of the Stuyvesant Hotel.

PHONE RATES TO GO INTO EFFECT

Public Service Commission Cannot Prevent Increased Tariffs from Becoming Operative Sept. 1—Bill Giving Power Failed in Legislature—Hearings on Former Raise Not Finished.

Port Ewen, N. Y., Aug. 19, 1920.

Editor Freeman:

I appreciate very much your publishing of my article on why telephone rates should not be raised. You may feel assured that this article has met the approval of a large number of your readers as have received a very large number of favorable comments on same.

When one notices the large ads of the Phone Company that are being carried daily by all our county papers, it shows the broad-mindedness of the Freeman staff. As these ads simply repeat what has already been said in the booklets issued to all subscribers, it makes it look as though the 'phone people want to keep the papers still from stating the people's side of the case.

It might sometime interest your readers to know that the second raise in rates has not yet been fully adjusted, although we have been paying the advance all this time. I am enclosing a letter, which is only a copy, of how fast the public service commission works.

Respectfully submitted,
SYLVANUS VAN AKEN.

The letter mentioned by Mr. Van Aken follows:

State of New York, Public Service Commission, Second District.

Albany, August, 17, 1920.

Mr Sylvanus Van Aken, Port Ewen, N. Y.

Dear Sir:—Your letter of the 12th instant in respect to proposed increase in rates of New York Telephone Company has been received. Under the statute (section 92 public service commission law) the company may file with this commission a tariff schedule showing increased rates and the commission has not the power to suspend the going into effect of such schedule. A bill was in the last legislature giving the commission such power but it failed to pass. After the rates are in effect complaint may be made to the commission as to them and after hearing the commission may fix reasonable rates. I may say that there are now pending before this commission many complaints as to New York Telephone Company rates and public hearings are not yet finished. Representatives of the mayor's conference of the state are conducting the hearings for complaints.

For the commission,
FRANCIS X. DISNEY,
Secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Tourin are sojourning here for a few days with their daughter who is stopping with Dr. Prime on his farm here.

L. A. Lamouree and W. E. Pulver are reshingling one of Dr. Prime's houses.

METTACAHONTS.

Mettacahonts, Aug. 19.—The Sunday school picnic held at Mettacahonts, August 11 and 12 was a decided success although the weather conditions were bad. We wish through the columns of this paper and in the voice of the Sunday school to thank every one who helped in any way to make the picnic a success especially the several committees who discharged their duties so cheerfully and faithfully. We were very sorry to disappoint the people by not having music, and by not serving supper the second evening, but the weather conditions were the direct cause of our failure to carry out our plans. The gross recipts for the two evenings were about $225 and the net proceeds a little less than $100. This amount is to be used to carry on the work of the Sunday school to which we cordially invite your attendance.

Mrs. William Cooney of Cornwall-on-the-Hudson has been spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hornbeck.

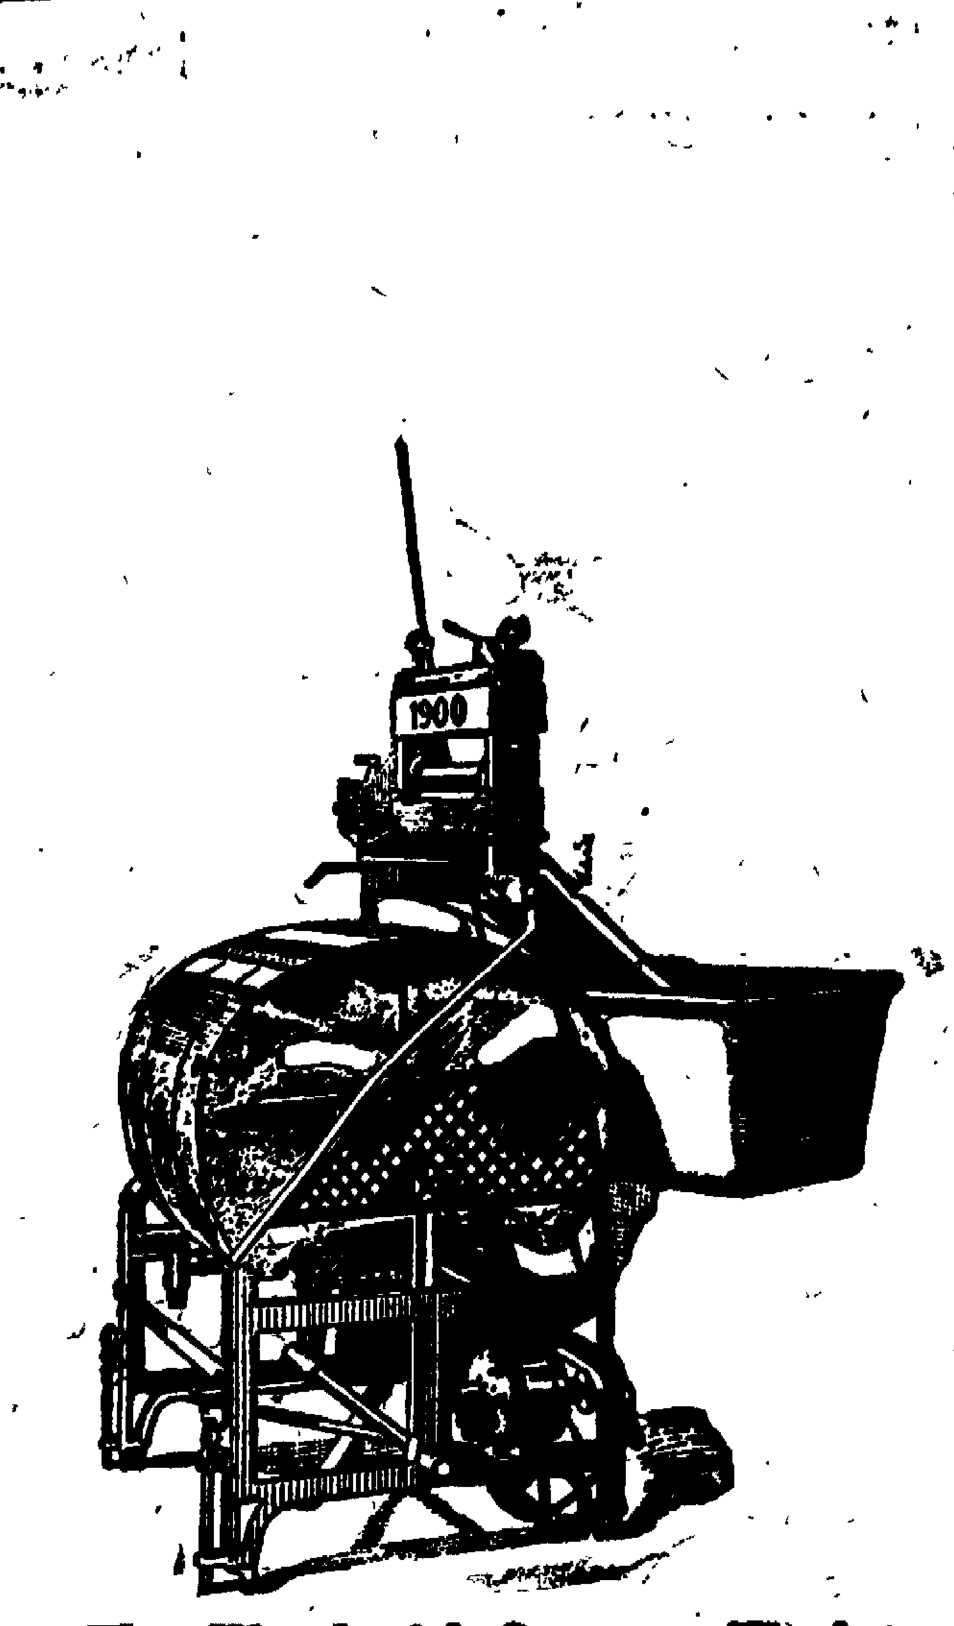

Miss Lena Dick of Kingston, one of our beloved former teachers, came to town last Wednesday and attended the picnic both evenings. Miss Dick also was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Ben E. Burger and family and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Osterhoudt and family.

Miss Ray Markle and Mrs. F. Zeeman returned to their Kingston home on Sunday evening. Their many friends were glad to see them again.

Mrs. John J. Wood has been spending some time with her son, Will Wood, at Napanoch, who is ill.

NOT A HITTER ONLY.

Babe Can Field, Pitch and Run With Best of 'em.

Babe Ruth apparently isn't appreciated for his true worth as a ball player in the spots where they don't have a chance to see him perform. The general opinion of him is, regardless of what has been written, that he is merely a smacker of home runs and is a poor, crippled nonentity at other things.

The facts are that the "Babe" is a very fine outfielder. He can go get the long flies and can race in for the short ones. He covers a world of territory. His arm is sure and strong. He has thrown out many an ambitious ball player who, like the non-observing fans, figured the great batter couldn't throw. In addition to this he is one of the best base runners among the Yankees, which, which not saying a great deal, proves something. Add to that the fact that he could, if he so desired, lead his league as a left-handed pitcher and that he can play a bang-up game at first base, and it isn't hard to figure that he can do something besides knock the ball out of the park. Ruth is one of the greatest ball players who ever performed.

Don't forget that he has led the American League as a pitcher. That was his forte when he came into the league.

ACCORD.

Accord, Aug. 19.—Over the top and then some. That in brief tells how successful the Accord district was in reaching its quota in the campaign for funds for the Rondout Valley Creamery. Accord's quota was $30,000. At the close of the meeting Monday evening it was found that $36,000 had been subscribed. The evening was very stormy but that made no difference. We understand that to date the valley has raised an amount considerably in excess of the $100,000 required and that upward of 700 cows have been promised.

Next Monday evening, August 23, the regular Sing will be held in the Odd Fellows Hall. An especially large attendance is desired as the details will be worked out for the great fair and clambake in the Millhook Grove on Saturday, September 4.

The M. E. Church clambake will be held on the church grounds on Thursday afternoon and evening, September 7. First bake will be opened 3 p. m., standard time. Plenty of refreshments of icecream and soft drinks on sale. Bake will be held rain or shine.

James Lounsbery, D. E. Schoonmaker, A. L. Sahler and Cleveland Reider attended the notification exercises at Hyde Park. They reported a splendid time.

J. D. Sahler and sons, Herbert and Howard, have returned from a several days' visit with relatives at Harlingen, N. J.

P. W. Gazlay has sold a horse to St. Josen parties.

Chester Quick was painfully injured Sunday as the result of the accidental discharge of a rifle in the hands of a friend.

Buy an Electric Washer

Sooner or later you are bound to come to it—so why delay the day?

Every washday that you continue to wash the old washboard way with its rubbing and fretting is not only costing you money but is gradually wearing down your health.

Even if you have a dependable laundress you still lose—because washboard rubbing ruins clothes and laundress's wages quickly mount up.

With an Electric Washer you can do the washing yourself, if you wish—or, if you have a laundress, she can easily do all the washing and most of the ironing in a single morning.

Belgian Hares.

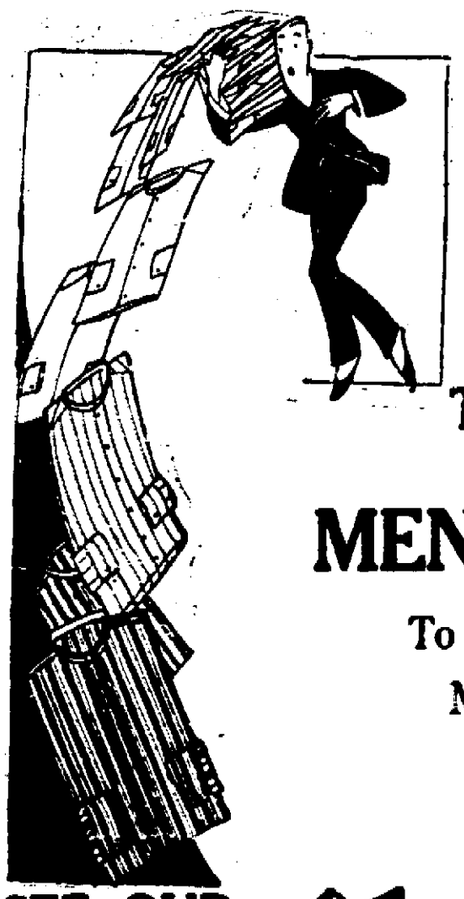

The Belgian hare is of a mahogany color, with wide black lacings on the ears and wavy black ticking on the body; no sign of white should appear, even on the feet. There are several varieties of Flemish Giant, one being steel gray with the under part of the body nearly white, another dove nearly white, another more nearly brown than gray, and another black. White Giants are pure white with pink eyes.

Florida's Exceptional Climate.

Throughout Florida there is more rain in the summer than in the winter. The rainy season begins and ends a little earlier in the western part than in the eastern part of the state. The dryness of the winters is an important factor in making Florida an ideal winter resort. By far the greatest part of the summer rain comes in the daytime in the form of brief showers, which cool the air.

Iodine.

Iodine, the most important byproduct of the nitrate industry, is recovered from the liquor which remains after the nitrate has been precipitated. Although some sodium iodate is contained in practically all caliche, iodine is produced by only a portion of the nitrate companies, and the output of these companies is carefully regulated by a producers' trust, in order that the limited market may not be overstocked.

Some real facts about

COFFEE

Time has dispelled many old illusions. Coal was once condemned as "injurious" and burned openly in the market place as a "public nuisance."

For ten centuries the nations of the earth have enjoyed the benefits of coffee. Yet in this enlightened day coffee is sometimes declared "injurious"—another form of superstition.

Coffee plays its part in the homes of the millions—three times a day every day. Coffee helped to win the war. It fed suffering Belgium. In Holland coffee is always ready to serve—and its people are healthy.

You will find in REYNOLD'S RELIANCE a coffee of unsurpassed flavor and aroma. And our scientific process of roasting and grinding makes RELIANCE as healthful as it is delicious.

Remember to ask for RELIANCE. It is always fresh at your grocers—guaranteed to please or your money back. Wm. T. Reynolds & Company, Inc., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

LEGION STATE CONVENTION SEP. 10

Major General Leonard Wood and Franklin D'Olier, national commander of the American Legion, will be the principal speakers at the second annual state convention of The American Legion in this state, according to the convention program which was issued yesterday to all of the 930 posts in the state.

The convention will be held in Chancellor's Hall, Albany, on September 10 and 11. It will be preceded by a meeting of the state committee of 150 members on the night of September 9, at the same place.

Major James R. Watt, of Albany and Governor Alfred E. Smith will welcome the delegates to Albany, and the response will be given by the state commander, Wade H. Hayes.

The business of the convention will consist in the introduction and consideration of resolutions with which The American Legion has been concerned, the election of approximately eighty delegates to the national convention to be held in Cleveland Ohio, on September 27, and the election of state officers for the coming year. Among the important questions which are to be considered by the Legion are the following: Beneficial legislation, including the Fordney bill; civil service preference for ex-service men; the betterment of federal care for wounded and disabled. Representatives of the federal board for vocational training of the War Risk Insurance Bureau, and of the United States public health service will address the delegates and will be on hand during the convention to confer with committees.

Albany has appointed civic committees which are co-operating to give the 600 delegates and alternates present a royal welcome. On September 10th, all delegates will attend a buffet luncheon in the educational building. On the following day, they will be entertained at a luncheon given by the Albany Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Ten Eyck. A special dinner will also be given in honor of General Wood at which a nuber of the most prominent Legion officials will be present.

Automobile rides, steamship trips and teas are being arranged for women delegates.

A large smoker with boxing bouts will be held for the men delegates on the evening of September 10th. Mike O'Dowd, formerly middleweight champion will box ten rounds with an opponent yet to be named. Hugo Clements of Albany, a welterweight, will also box. A ten round bout will be for the bantamweight championship of the American Legion in this state, between Jabez White of the Fort Orange Post of Albany and Frank Cascio of the Murray Hill Post of New York city.

There were on August 17th, 73,000 paid up members of The American Legion in this state. In addition there are approxiately 50,000 members who have not yet paid their per capita dues.

According to reports from national headquarters New York will go to the national convention in Cleveland with the largest paid-up membership and the largest number of delegates.

Delegates and alternates, as well as other members of the Legion expecting to attend the state convention in Albany, are requested to write the state adjutant, Samuel E. Aronowitz, 35 State street, Albany, N. Y., regarding rooms, as Albany will be particularly crowded at that date because of the heavy tourist traffic over Labor Day.

All but four counties out of sixty-two in the state of New York have held conventions and elected delegates and alternates who for the most part rank among those who are popular and most active in American Legion circles. In some counties, new county officers have been elected and state committeemen for the coming year.

That the women are becoming more and more active in the Legion is demonstrated by their appointment on committees and their presence at the state convention will be more marked this year than last. It is reported that there will be some twelve to fifteen women delegates in attendance at the state convention.

We Want to Know.

Mr. Speaker, honored legislators and all the lobbyists within the reach of my voice: I rise to interrogate: Just where does labor leave off and capital begin? Who looks after the rights of the disorganized you-an'-me proletariats in between. I belong to the Majority Party of the Men-Who-Pay-the-Bills, and I am getting sore on languid labor and corpulent capital. I don't wear overalls and haven't a silk hat! I can't afford to own a yacht, and I can't afford to go on a strike, although I have worked hard for twenty years.

I have a family and I am more or less respectable. I pay my bills on the first of the month, likewise I pay town, state and national taxes. I have never been confined in a jail or in any institution supported by public funds. I am American born, with all the rights or citizenship, including protection—especially protection at home. I want to know what the government of the U. S. A., apart from political "accumtion," offers as a permanent and orderly cure for these periodic eruptions of strikes. If capital is to blame, what's the remedy? If labor is to blame, what's the remedy?

Or if the whole system rotten? Does the one squeeze the other when the opportunity comes, just because he can? I'm only the Man-Who-Pays-the-Bills. Yet I know my group of men is larger than the other two groups combined. I also know I'm the -season-after-season-goat and I want to ask, "Does this government know I'm the goat and what are you going to do about it?"

A bunch of boomers get a hold on the natural water resources and overcapitalize. I pay twice for water. That's capital. When the weather turns cold, some coal miners in Pennsylvania and Colorado decide to strike—I don't know what for—and there isn't any coal and my baby gets the croup and nearly dies. That's labor.

I'm not jealous of what they get, but I think I ought to get something besides the honor of paying the bills and suffering the inconveniences.

I want to know when this government, conceived in liberty, will give me a chance to plan my life just a little bit on a permanent basis. I can't strike for a raise in pay—I have to deserve it. I haven't accumulated capital enough to live on without work, and I want to know sure what the price of eggs will be tomorrow morning.

You know who I am. I'm the Average Man. I earn more than $1,300 a year, but not much more. I spend my salary for sane and sensible living. I have ambitions for my boy and girl, maybe a college education, and about every thirty days these two highwaymen, capital and labor, come along and hold me up! Whichever one wins, I lose, and I want a basis.

I say economic theories are all hunkydory, but a little common sense added ain't so bad at that! I say sympathy is all right until we develop professional sympathy grabbers. I say that the unions are all right until they become offensive instead of defensive.

I send my wife and kids on a vacation. Before the vacation is half over I have to wire them to rush back because there is going to be a railroad strike. Their good time is spoiled because they might be injured on the way back, maybe with a brick or a derailment. I have to spend $100 to go to meet them. One hundred dollars—the price of a winter suit and a pair of socks. Why? Because this country knows how to organize a strike, but not how to disorganize one.

And that's my kick, gentlemen. I want to know what you are going to do for us fellows who own the cottages and the Fords and who don't belong to the unions and don't wear overalls and don't own any banks. We buy what labor makes with capital's profit tacked on, an' I want to know where we get a square deal.—C. V. Young in Power.

SMALLEST DOG.

"There are some creatures," said the small dog, "who can boast of being fine and of being strong and of being beautiful and of being great

"I can't boast of any of these things. I can't even think them to myself.

"I can't even say to myself 'I won't boast of such things for that would be most unattractive, still I am glad that I am so strong and big and noble and fine, and that folks think me a big and handsome creature.'

"I can't even say such things to myself.'

"Why not?" asked a toy spaniel dog.

"Because I am none of these things. Just take a look at me.

"Do you see how small I am?"

"Yes," said the toy spaniel dog. "You couldn't even say you were bigger than I am, and I'm small enough. In fact you are a great deal smaller, which seems funny.

"You're a nice looking little white dog though," said the toy spaniel dog.

"Ah, yes and though I am so small I have a nice little tail—not a bad-sized tail at all, and I can wag it and show creatures that though I am such a small dog still I have a whole lot of friendliness about me.

"My home was in Mexico. Yes, that was where I was born. And then I was brought to the United States. I must say I like it here too. I was always brought up to be a well-mannered dog, however and I still am. That's the best way for a dog to be, don't you think so?"

"Oh yes," said the toy spaniel. "We should be well-mannered and so should other creatures. We don't like anyone to be rude to us, and shove us out of the way or anything like that, and we don't want to be rude to others and talk when we're supposed to be napping or when we would interrupt the conversation."

"But you certainly are a cunning little thing," he added.

The small dog laughed. "I am an absurd little dog. My little face and ears and eyes—everything about me is small.

"Considering the fact that I'm such a wee thing, I do think my tail is pretty good sized, and that pleases me so much.

"You notice I have mentioned it twice."

"Yes, I noticed that," said the toy spaniel dog.

"Well," said the little dog, "I'm fully grown. I'll never grow any more."

"Gracious," said the toy spaniel.

"I'm not surprised you say that," said the little dog. "Everyone thinks that I'm a puppy of a very small kind of dog. But I'm not a puppy. I'm full grown."

"You'll never be any bigger?" asked the toy spaniel.

"Never," laughed the little dog. "I'm fully grown as I said before. But do you know that I can be held in one hand? Yes, that is about the size I am. Of course, I'm larger than a child's hand, but in the hand of a grown-up man I just fit in nicely.

"Doesn't that seem funny?"

"What is your family name?" asked the toy spaniel dog.

"Our family name," said the little dog, "is Chihuahua."

"That's a fearfully hard name to say," the toy spaniel dog said.

"Don't bother to call me that," said the little dog. "Just call me 'Handful.' That suits me.

"And by the way, they say that I'm the smallest of my breed in the whole of the United States. Yes, the very smallest one, and you can see we're a pretty small-sized animal when grown, even if some are a little larger than I am."

"I'm glad to have seen you and you're a nice little Handful," said the toy spaniel politely, and the little dog wagged his tail delightedly.

Charm of Frankness.

There is a charm about frankness just as there is about sunshine and a fresh breeze. The girl who is always "putting on," trying to make an impression by assuming something that she does not feel, is far less attractive than the girl who is her simple unaffected self, speaking from the heart. Frankness does not mean saying everything that comes into your head. It is not the same thing as bluntness. Frankness does not mean saying everything you feel, but it does mean feeling everything you say.—Girls' Companion.

Giving Him His Due.

"Oratory is a gift, not an acquirement," said the proud politician as he sat down after an hour's harangue. "I understand," said the matter of fact chairman. "We're not blamin' you. You did the best you could."

Peril in Iodine Fumes.

Fumes of iodine have recently been urged as a method of administering that drug preferable to the usual tincture. It has been shown by experiments that fumes are absorbed through the skin and when inhaled are absorbed by the lungs, but it is shown also that inhalation is very dangerous even in small quantities, especially when there is any disease of the respiratory passages.

To Rescue Drowning Person.

As soon as a drowning man begins to lose his recollection he gradually slackens his hold until he quits altogether. A rescuer should be careful to avoid being grasped, however. The safest method of approach is at the head. Grasp the struggler by the hair, turning him on his back. Then threw yourself on your back and swim, holding the man by his hair, his back to your stomach.

GIRL SAVES LIFE OF 200 LB. MAN

Miss Agnes Joehnning, a Brooklyn school teacher, by her act of bravery Tuesday in saving George W. Wood of Rosendale from drowning, ranks among the year's candidates for the Carnegie Medal for bravery. Miss Joehnning is but 20 years of age and slight of stature, while Wood weighs close to 200 pounds.

Mr. Wood had bathed in the waters of the Rondout creek for years. On Tuesday he ventured far out in the creek when he discovered that he was being pushed out in the direction of the rapids despite his frantic attempts to make his way back to shore. He shouted for help as long as his strength permitted. Miss Joehnning, looking from a window of her father's summer home, saw Wood grappling for his life. She plunged into the creek and reached Wood just as he was going down for the second time. Exhausted and almost senseless from the struggle, Wood lay like a dead weight on the girl's arm and in a moment both were pulled under. Miss Joehnning approached Wood again and securing a better hold this time succeeded in dragging him back to shore. Before aid arrived she had resuscitated him.

THE WOODPECKER FARM.

Prohibition has brought us some problems
Each booze substitute brings a-harm,
But we folks are finding the answer,
Out home on our woodpecker farm.
First we catch these bright birds by the million,
We teach them to come when we call,
We work and we toil till we train them to peck,
The wood out of wood alcohol.

CHORUS.

Oh, a woodpecker farm is what I'm going to buy,
I'd never have to worry, if the whole darn world went dry,
There wouldn't be enough woodpeckers for us all,
If they but could peck all the wood out of wood alcohol

You have tried to get drunk on Peruna,
On extract of lemon had your fill,
Drunk grape juice with yeast and brown sugar,
Each home brewer has his own still,
But the please has gone from your drinking,
You all are so fearful of harm
But have no more fear, we invite you to come,
Tank up at our woodpecker farm
(Chorus)

Ray Chapman, star shortstop of the Cleveland American League team and reputed one of the greatest players in the game, who died in a New York hospital after he had been struck on the head by a fast inshoot thrown by Pitcher Carl Mays, of the New York American League team. The accident occurred during a game at the Polo Grounds. Chapman's skull was fractured by the force of the blow. He was carried from the field in an unconscious condition and all available surgical skill was employed to save him. Chapman has been the victim of many accidents during his major league career. In 1916 he broke his leg. This is the first time in the history of professional baseball that a player has been killed by a pitched ball. Chapman was born at McHenry, Ky., on January 15, 1891. He has been a member of the Cleveland team since 1912. He played first professional baseball at Mount Vernon, Ill., in 1908, and the following year he went to Springfield, Ill. From there he went to the Three I League, playing with the Davenport team. He won his first trial with Cleveland in 1911, but was sent to the minors for more seasoning and recalled by the Indians the following year. From that time until his death he was one of the infield stars of the game. His hitting and playing throughout this season was a factor in keeping the Cleveland team in the fight for the pennant. Chapman was married last year to Miss Katherine Daly of Cleveland, daughter of M. B. Daly, president of the East Ohio Gas Company.

Telephone Development Must Not Be Restricted

THE SYSTEM of telephone communication which we have provided to serve the people of New York State has been built and developed under a plan that has produced good service at reasonable cost to every user. Each community and each subscriber has been given telephone apparatus of the standard required to provide the universal service which has brought the people of the State closer together for broader and better trade and social relations. For this service everyone pays a rate that is determined chiefly by the value and scope of the service rendered.

A substitute for this broad and comprehensive method of furnishing telephone service has been proposed. Those who advocate this substitute plan contend that each local service area should be treated as a separate unit and that the most important factor in establishing rates for such segregated area should be the amount of revenue required to operate and maintain the service and produce a fair return on the value of the property in the segregated area.

THIS PROPOSED METHOD is comparable to a method whereby railroad branch lines which are valuable as feeders, but are not self-supporting, would be expected to finance themselves in their immediate territory. The branch line is supported by the revenue of the system as a whole and is of value to all the users of the system.

The enforcement of this substitute plan would mean much higher rates for service in many communities and fewer subscribers in these communities as a consequence. In some areas it would mean curtailment of necessary telephone development and might even necessitate suspension of service. The less prosperous areas could not afford modern equipment and even if a slight reduction in rates in the denser areas were possible, this saving could not begin to counterbalance the effect of curtailed development of service in the State as a whole.

THE NEW YORK TELEPHONE COMPANY does not believe the public would sanction the proposed change in the method of making telephone rates in New York State, for the simple reason that the method now used is the method upon which modern business is founded and has been developed to its present high efficiency. It is the method that has given the people of this State and Nation such great public services as highways, canals, railroad systems, telegraph, postal and telephone systems, all giving comprehensive service without unreasonable cost to anyone.

The continuation of the State-wide method of making telephone rates is very much in the interest of the public of this State.

No Way for Ladies to Act.

Scene, a crowded restaurant; dramatis personae, the proprietor, sleek, prosperous, pompous; a doorman—a dejected attendant, rolling anxious, furtive eyes in every direction to find out whether a customer had skipped without cashing in his meal check properly. For a few moments, however, attendant relaxes, heavy eyes almost close and vigilance abates.

On this peaceful lassitude falls the voice of the proprietor. "Here, you, Joe, get on your job. Didn't you notice them two ladies over there beating it out without paying their bill?"—Rehoboth Sunday-Herald.

On Trial.

Customer—I'm mighty particular about how my hair is cut. Do you think you can do a good job on it?

Barber—Well, I'm reckoned fairly decent, but if you want I'll do one side of your head first so you can see how you look.—American Legion Weekly.

Marquis and Marchioness of Queensberry.

Recent portrait studies of the new Marquis and Marchioness of Queensberry. The Marquis succeeded to the title by the death of the Marquis of Quensberry, noted British sportsman, who died in South Africa on August 1. The present Marquis was formerly the Viscount Drumlanrig and during the world war served in the famous Black Watch Regiment. The new Marchioness was formerly Irene Richards, noted stage beauty. The couple are at present traveling in South Africa.

Celluloid.

Celluloid, from which many toilet articles and imitations of ivory are made, is composed from the cellulose found in cotton cloth or raw cotton. It is treated with a solution of nitric acid which forms it into a pulp very much like paper pulp. It is then washed with water, which removes most of the acid. It is partially hardened and camphor gum mixed with it, when it is rolled into sheets and thoroughly dried. To manipulate it, it is softened by steam and then hardened by drying.

Her Sad Farewell.

A very dignified man, whom I had known only a short while, came one evening to say good-by, as he was leaving on a long trip. When I ushered him into the parlor I discovered that my young brother had hung crepe on all the furniture!—Chicago Tribune.

High Wind Velocity.

The highest wind velocity ever observed below ten kilometers' altitude was 83 meters a second or 186 miles an hour, observed from a pilot balloon over Lansing, Mich., at a height of about four and a half miles, on Dec. 17, 1919.

TRIBUTE TO EX-SERVICE MEN

National Commander D'Olier, in Letter for Memorial Service, Compliments Men Who Served.

Listen, buddies, to what Franklin D'Olier, your national commander said about you in a recent letter. A Legion post at Westville, N. J., asked Rev. Howard E. Thompson of Woodbury, N. J., to conduct a Memorial service for them, and the minister wrote the national commander for a message which he could read publicly on that occasion.

"In a very few years," Mr. D'Olier wrote, in part, "the ex-service men of this country will be the most prominent in business, in the professions and in politics, not merely because they are ex-service men, but because, in order to enter the service, they were picked men, physically, mentally and morally, and being thus selected and having the advantage of great experience in the army, navy and marine corps, they will necessarily be leaders in all walks of life.

"The American Legion proposes to keep the ex-service men together in an organization whose ideals are service to our country and service to our comrades, and their reward will be the continuing satisfaction of unselfish service faithfully performed."

Franklin D'Olier.

FURLOUGH AT ATLANTIC CITY

Famous Resort Post Arranges to Accommodate Former Service Men on Their Vacations.

The Atlantic City post of the American Legion is hooking up the A. E. F. leave area idea to the possibilities of America's summer resort. It is inviting Legionnaires from any part of the United States to spend a furlough at Atlantic City, and it is establishing for them a tent camp at which the expense item of quarters is reduced to a minimum. So, even though our well-known former skipper, Uncle Sam, isn't available to issue transportation and commutation of rations and quarters, any Legionnaire may now spend a vacation at Atlantic City without going financially flat in the process.

Bill Fisher, formerly top sergeant of Company C, Twenty-third engineers, is the father of the Atlantic City leave area plan. He put the scheme up to the Atlantic City post and the post voted to carry it out. A committee was authorized to go ahead with the scheme.

The conception of the camp which the committee had in mind when it started work was a tent town which should be operated on the simplest plan feasible. It should provide for a nominal sum living quarters under canvas, thus saving the Legionnaires the expensive hotel bills and at the same time assuring them of a place to stay in a city in which it is sometimes difficult to obtain hotel accommodations at any price. Living in the tent town, the ex-service men should be able to take advantage of the bathing, the boating, the dancing on the piers, the shows in the theaters and the many other diversions which the resort offers.

The committee has named the tent town Camp D'Olier in honor of the Legion's national commander. It has worked out all the details of the camp. The city councilmen, led by the mayor, granted the post the right to use a plot of ground owned by the city and the city engineer laid out the camp streets and planned the sanitary facilities.

All the Boys Know Him.

What do you know about pediculosis? The bug experts in the bureau of entomology of the department of agriculture are seeking information about this five-syllabled affliction, which the A. E. F. veteran knows by the shorter term of "cooties." A report of the bureau says that if lice-borne diseases should get a foothold in this country their appearance in epidemic form is not impossible.

Had the Goods on Him.

"What's the charge against this man?" asked the judge.

"Fighting in the street," replied the officer.

"You're fined $9.90, my man."

"What is the 90 cents for, your honor?"

"War tax."

"But, your honor, the war's over."

"Never nothing; you were fighting weren't you?"

Travels of the Potato.

It is believed that potatoes were first grown in South America and that the Spaniards took them back to Europe when they overran Peru. Potatoes were later introduced to Italy, France, England, Ireland and to North America, in the order named.

TELL US WHAT YOU THINK

"YOU WIN OR LOSE THE MINUTE HE FIRST SET EYES ON YOU!"

That was the thought pounding through Keith's brain. He meant to tramp back to civilization—back to face the chief of the Northwest Mounted Police. His uniform, his figure, his face even to the peculiar scar on the forehead—everything about him would not be Keith the fugitive from justice but Conniston, the officer of the Royal Mounted who lay dying before him, under the Arctic stars.

Soon he would stand before the chief "whose eyes could see through boiler-plate"—and before the girl supposed to be his sister—and, then, before Shan Tung, the Chinese mystic who had known the dead officer and who never forgot a face.

In "The River's End," James Oliver Curwood has written a tale of such fire, such romance, such vigor and intrigue and charm—and Marshall Neilan has so vividly transferred it to the screen that those who see it will long remember it as one of the brilliant achievements in photodramatic literature.

Colonel Alfred Hasbrouck, brother of former County Judge Frank Hasbrouck of Dutchess county, who resides in Poughkeepsie, is dead in San Francisco. Colonel Hasbrouck served forty years in the United States army and was retired last November. He was born in New York, November 1, 1858, and graduated from West Point. He served in Indian wars and in the Spanish-American war and aided in the relief of Pekin during the Boxer uprising. During the world war he served in the Philippine Islands.

All Highland Thursday afternoon honored the memory of its oldest resident, Mrs. Lydia Bartlett Le Barron, 103, when all business places in the village were closed and the Methodist Episcopal Church was crowded with visitors and friends of the centenarian. The funeral services were held at three o'clock with the Rev. R. M. Turrentine, pastor of the church, officiating. Mrs. Le Barron has been a regular member of the Highland Methodist Church since she was about twenty-two years old. The choir and a special quartet sang "Only Waiting" and "There is No Night in Heaven," two sacred hymns selected by Mrs. Le Barron shortly before her death. Burial was in the family plot at the Highland cemetery.

Edward Cotter died at his home in Hancock, Delaware county, Wednesday, after a long illness. Mr. Cotter was a former resident of West Hurley, going from there a number of years ago to Hancock where he started a general store which prospered greatly as a result of his progressive ideas. Mr. Cotter was closely identified with the bluestone quarrying business in that section and was considered as an expert judge of bluestone. A few years ago failing health caused his retirement from active business. The funeral will be held from his residence at Hancock on Saturday, August 21st, with interement in the family plot in the Hancock cemetery.

OIL STOCKS GROW.

June Production Greatest On Record, Statistics Show.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Aug. 20.—The oil supply in the United States is more favorable today than it has been for months, according to government experts.

Dr. David White, of the bureau of mines, cites the following developments which have improved so materially the outlook for oil:

Oil production in the United States jumped sharply in June, the output being 37,219,000 barrels with a daily average production of 1,240,633 barrels, the greatest ever recorded for one month. In addition imports from Mexico jumped and Dr. White estimated that these would double in a year. The present total import figure is roughly 59,000,000 barrels.

Why Frankfurt.

King Carl the Great (Charlemagne) was once defeated by the Saxons, and fled with his Franks to the Main. But they could find no fording place by which to escape the pursuit of their enemies. Suddenly a cart appeared and made for a spot where it crossed easily, thus showing the Franks where the river was fordable. So they came across the Main, and the place has ever since been called "Frankfurt" (the ford of the Franks).

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Aug. 20.—There were general advances at the opening of the stock market today ranging from fractions to three points. The higher prices brought in a moderate supply of stocks and some recessions occurred. Baldwin made a gain of 7⅛ to 105⅝. United States Steel moved up ⅝ to 88, but later lost this gain. Mexican Petroleum opened up 1 point at 157 from which it reacted to 156½. There was scarce supply of Pan-American, which advanced 2 points to 84¾ in a few transactions. The motors were in good demand, Kelly Springfield making a gain of 3 points to 76. Reading continued to reflect accumulation, advancing ⅝ to 88¾. At the end of the first fifteen minutes the stocks that had reacted moved up again and the tone became strong.

There was a material change in the conditions in the market today, buying orders being numerous and commission houses more active than for many weeks. Reading was strong advancing 1 point to 88½. The steel industrials after the first 15 minutes made substantial gains, U. S. Steel selling at 88¼ and Baldwin moving up to 105⅞. There was vigorous buying also in the petroleum stocks, Pan-American Petroleum advancing over 2 points to 84⅞ and Mexican Petroleum was up 2⅜ to 158⅜.

The market closed steady today: government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

Iceberg Acrobat.

The sighting of a fleet of 14 icebergs, one with somersaulting tendencies, was reported by Capt. W. H. Flemming recently on the arrival here of the steamship Munaires from Rotterdam.

The bergs were seen about 730 miles east of Halifax. One of them, said Capt. Flemming, suddenly rolled over with a splash. As it tumbled, a large piece from the top was broken off, causing the berg to take a second tumble. As it was righting another section broke off, and for the third time the berg turned over. It was about a mile astern of the vessel.—New York World.

A Good Catch.

It is impossible to repress a feeling of satisfaction over the feat of the Atlantic City game warden, who apprehended the owner of a seaplane guilty of shooting wild geese in the air. The law against this sort of "sport" is strict, and the penalty provided for offenders is ample. And, as bird shooting from the air is on a plane with the use of dynamite and seines in closed waters, the more rigidly the statute is enforced the better. Any leniency would be disastrous to the bird life of the country and calamitous to the United States.—Detroit Free Press.

LAWS OF NEW YORK.—By Authority.
CHAP. 848.

AN ACT to amend the penal law and the prison law, in relation to sentences to reformatories and to permit the sentence of misdemeanants thereto.

Became a law May 12, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section two thousand one hundred and eighty-five of chapter eighty-eight of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act providing for the punishment of crime, constituting chapter forty of the consolidated laws," is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 2185. Sentence of males between sixteen and thirty years of age. A male between the ages of sixteen and thirty, convicted of a felony, who has not theretofore been convicted of a crime punishable by imprisonment in a state prison, or a male between such ages convicted of a misdemeanor who has formerly been convicted of a misdemeanor may, in the discretion of the trial court be sentenced to imprisonment in the New York state reformatory at Elmira, to be there confined under the provisions of law relating to that reformatory. The commitment of a misdemeanant pursuant to this section shall certify that defendant has been previously convicted of a misdemeanor.

§ 2. Section three hundred and seven of chapter forty-seven of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act relating to prisons constituting chapter forty-three of the consolidated laws," is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 307. Sentence to reformatories. Any person who shall be convicted of an offense punishable by imprisonment in either of said reformatories, and who, upon such conviction, shall be sentenced to imprisonment therein, shall be imprisoned according to this article, and not otherwise. The term of such imprisonment of any person so convicted and sentenced shall be terminated by the state board of managers, as authorized by this article; but such imprisonment shall not exceed the maximum term provided by law for the crime for which the prisoner was convicted and sentenced, except that in the case of persons convicted of misdemeanors the term of imprisonment shall be for a period not to exceed three years.

§ 3. Such chapter is amended by inserting in article eleven thereof three new sections, to be sections three hundred and seven-a, three hundred and seven-b and three hundred and seven-c, to read respectively as follows:

§ 307-a. Persons in reformatories convicted of misdemeanors. Any person convicted of a misdemeanor and confined in a reformatory shall be confined under the same conditions as a person convicted of a felony and confined therein, and shall be entitled to the same clothing, donation and railroad transportation on discharge. The state shall pay all expenses of transportation to and confinement of such person in the reformatory.

§ 307-b. Return of inmates improperly committed. Whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of the state board of managers of reformatories that any person committed thereto is not of proper age to be so committed, or is not properly committed, or is insane or mentally or physically incapable of being materially benefited by the discipline of the reformatories, such board of managers shall cause the return of such person to the county from which he was so committed. Such person shall be so returned in the custody of one of the persons employed by the said board of managers to convey to the said institutions prisoners committed thereto, who shall deliver him into the custody of the sheriff of the county from which he was committed. The sheriff shall take such prisoner before the court making the commitment, or some other court having equal jurisdiction in such county, to be resentenced by such court for the offense for which he was committed to such reformatories, and to be dealt with in all respects as though he had not been so committed. Such person shall not, however, be so returned to the county from which he was committed after the expiration of sixty days subsequent to his admission to the reformatories, unless such prior return or transfer be dangerous to the life or health of such person. The cost and expense of the return of such person necessarily incurred and paid by such board of managers shall be charged against the county from which such person was committed, to be paid by such county to such board of managers in the same manner as other county charges are collected.

§ 307-c. Persons not to be committed when reformatories overcrowded. If at any time there shall be as many inmates in the reformatories as can be properly cared for therein, the board of managers may direct the superintendent of reformatories to proceed as hereinafter provided. If subsequent to such direction and before the revocation thereof a person be committed to the said reformatories and the superintendent of such reformatories be so notified in accordance with the law, such superintendent shall advise the committing court that there are as many inmates in the reformatories as can be properly cared for therein. The committing court may thereupon resentence such person for the offense for which he was sentenced, to any other institution in accordance with the law.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The comptroller of the state, the attorney-general, and the conservation commission shall constitute a commission to investigate the title to lands in counties containing portions of the forest preserve. The members of said commission shall receive their actual and necessary expenses to be audited by the comptroller. Should such claimant fail to file such statement within the time limited as aforesaid, he shall be forever barred from maintaining an action against the people with relation thereto or from interposing his said claim of title as a defense to any action or proceeding brought by the people to recover the possession thereof.

§ 5. The evidence taken before said commission shall be duly subscribed by the said commission and shall be duly filed in the office of the secretary of state and said evidence so taken, or a certified copy thereof, may be read in evidence by any party to an action or proceeding which shall involve the title to such real property or any part thereof with the same force and effect as if taken in his behalf in pursuance of article tenth, chapter fourteen, title one, of the code of civil procedure.

§ 6. On or before February first, nineteen hundred and twenty-one, said commission shall make a complete report to the legislature of its proceedings, together with its recommendations in relation thereto.

§ 163. Statements to be attached to packages, contents, analysis. No manufacturer, firm, association, corporation or person shall sell, offer or expose for sale or for distribution in this state, any concentrated commercial feeding stuffs used for feeding live stock, unless such concentrated commercial feeding stuffs shall be accompanied by or shall have affixed to each and every package in a conspicuous place on the outside thereof and near the top, a tag, the form of which shall be prescribed by the commissioner and which shall bear a plainly printed statement which shall certify as follows:

e. If artificially colored, the name of the material used for such purpose.
f. In the case of meat products, the maximum per centum of phosphoric acid. g. In the case of molasses, the minimum per centum of sugar.
h. In case of compounded feeds containing roughages the percentage of total roughages when the total fibre content exceeds ten per centum with an allowance of two per centum of fibre content for variation.

The statement to be placed upon the tag as herein provided shall be the same statement as that upon the application filed in the office of the commissioner by the applicant when applying for a license as required by section one hundred and sixty-four of this chapter.

Metal fasteners with sharp points shall not be used to attach a tag to the container.

Where the feeding stuff is in white or light colored paper or cloth sacks, the tag may be omitted, but the statement herein provided for shall be plainly and conspicuously printed upon each sack. If any such concentrated commercial feeding stuffs be sold, offered or exposed for sale in bulk, such printed statement shall accompany every car or lot. Any such feeding stuffs purchased in bulk and thereafter placed in sacks for the purpose of sale shall have tags attached to each sack giving the information as provided herein before being sold, offered or exposed for sale. Whenever any feeding stuffs are sold at retail in bulk or in sacks or other containers belonging to the purchaser, the seller, upon request of the purchaser, shall furnish the said purchaser the information contained in the certified statement provided herein. Whenever any dealer shall mix a concentrated commercial feeding stuff to a customer's order, he shall, upon request, give to the customer at the time of delivery of the feeding stuff a printed or written statement of all of the materials used and the weight of each. That portion of the statement required by this section relating to the quality and ingredients of feeding stuffs shall be deemed a guaranty; provided, however, that a licensee may change any ingredient in a licensed feeding stuff under the license issued by filing with the commissioner a duly written notice or statement of such change, provided that such change does not change the percentages of protein, fat or fibre guaranteed under such license, and that the statement on the sacks or tags shall be changed accordingly.

§ 164. Statements to be filed with commissioner; to be accompanied by sample and affidavit when requested. Before any manufacturer, firm, association, corporation or person shall sell, offer or expose for sale in this state any concentrated commercial feeding stuffs, he or they shall, for each and every brand of concentrated commercial feeding stuffs, file annually prior to the sale, offer or exposure for sale, with the commissioner a certified copy of the statement, with the exception of the net weight of the contents of the package, specified in section one hundred and sixty-three, said certified copy to be accompanied, when the said commissioner shall so request, by a sealed glass jar or bottle containing at least one pound of the feeding stuff to be sold or offered for sale, said sample to be accompanied by an affidavit that said sample corresponds to the feeding stuff which it represents, in the per centum of crude protein, crude fat, crude fibre, and in case of meat products phosphoric acid, name of each ingredient contained therein, if a compounded feed, the name of any artificial coloring materials used and the percentage of total roughages when the total fibre content exceeds ten per centum.

§ 165. License fee. Every manufacturer, importer, agent or seller of any concentrated commercial feeding stuffs shall pay annually prior to the sale, offer or exposure for sale, to the treasurer of the state of New York a license fee of twenty-five dollars for each and every brand to be sold, offered or exposed for sale. Whenever a manufacturer, importer, agent or seller of any concentrated commercial feeding stuffs desires at any time to sell such material and has not compiled with the requirements of the statute he shall before selling, offering or exposing the same for sale, comply with the requirements as herein provided. Said treasurer shall in each case at once certify to the commissioner the payment of such license fee. Each manufacturer, importer or person who has complied with the provisions of this article shall be entitled to receive a certificate from the commissioner setting forth said facts. Such certificate shall expire on the thirty-first day of December of the calendar year for which it was issued, but no such certificate shall be issued for the sale of a brand of concentrated commercial feeding stuffs under a brand or trade name which is misleading or deceptive or which tends to mislead or deceive as to the constituents or materials of which it is composed. Any such certificate so issued may be cancelled by the commissioner when it is shown that any statement upon which it was issued is false or misleading or if the manufacturer of the feeding stuffs which are manufactured, sold, offered or exposed for sale by the holder of such certificate shall refuse to allow access to the plant where the same is manufactured for the purpose of any inspection authorized by the provisions of the farms and markets law or the agricultural law, or if the manufacturer shall refuse to permit an examination of the plant where the particular brand of feeding stuffs so licensed is manufactured or the feeding stuffs and feeding stuff materials therein; provided, however, that a retailer having feeding stuffs in his possession for sale which he purchased during the time when the license was in force shall not be prohibited from selling the remainder of such goods on hand by virtue of the revocation of the license or by the fact that the year for which the license was issued has expired. Whenever a manufacturer, firm, association, corporation or person shall have filed the statement required by section one hundred and sixty-three of this article and paid the license fee as prescribed in this section, no agent, seller or retailer of such brand of feeding stuffs shall be required to file such statement or pay such fee upon said brand during the year for which licensed, nor upon such goods so licensed remaining unsold in subsequent years which were purchased during the year for which it was licensed. For the purposes of this article, concentrated commercial feeding stuffs shall be considered as distinct and separate brands when differing either in guaranteed analysis, ingredients, name, brand or trademark.

§ 166. Commissioner to take samples for analysis. The commissioner shall at least once in each year analyze or cause to be analyzed at least one sample, to be taken in the manner hereinafter prescribed, of the different concentrated commercial feeding stuffs sold or offered for sale under the provisions of this article. The said commissioner or his duly authorized representative in taking samples shall take them in duplicate in the presence of at least one witness, and in the presence of such witness shall at the time of taking, seal, and if accepted, deliver one of such samples to the person apparently in charge of such feeding stuffs; the other sample the commissioner shall cause to be analyzed. The result of the analysis of the sample or samples so procured, together with such additional information as circumstances advise, shall be published in reports or bulletins from time to time.

§ 167. Hearings provided for. It shall be the duty of the commissioner before publishing any definitions, rules or regulations covering the operation of this article, to provide for a public hearing on the subject matter thereof, and a written notice of such hearing shall be mailed at least ten days in advance of the date of the hearing to all manufacturers of, and dealers in concentrated feeding stuffs who shall have filed with the commissioner a request for such notice.

§ 2. This act shall take effect January first, nineteen hundred and twenty-one.

Unwoven Persian Rugs.

The author of a book called "When I Was a Boy in Persia" says that certain rugs used in Persian houses have not yet found a place in the American market. These are large felt carpets called lumbs. They are made, not by weaving, but by beating the wool together and then pressing it. They are very thick, warm and noiseless, with red, cream and white borders, and with a field dotted with red, black, white, green, blue and golden circles of wool—quite a Joseph's coat in color.—The Outlook.

Determining Height of Mountains.

The height of mountains is ascertained by barometric observation, showing the pressure of atmosphere at the lower and higher levels. An instrument called the mountain barometer is graded especially for this purpose. It can also be done with a leveling instrument and theodolite, but either way requires technical knowledge.

The AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by National Headquarters of the American Legion.)

INCREASE FOR DISABLED MEN

Darrow Bill Enlarges Amount by $20 a Month for Veterans While Taking Training.

Another important victory in the American Legion's long fight for beneficial legislation in behalf of sick and disabled ex-service men is revealed in a telegram announcing passage of the bill, recently received at Legion national headquarters from Thomas W. Miller, chairman of the organization's national legislative committee in Washington.

The senate in a night session, according to the message, passed the measure as a rider to the deficiency appropriation bill, and as it previously had been passed by the house, it now awaits only the signature of the president to become a law.

The Darrow bill increases, by $20 a month, the amount of money paid to disabled veterans of the world war while taking training under the direction of the federal board of vocational education.

This is the second time the Legion has obtained an increase for the maimed heroes, having puched through congress, last December, the Sweet bill, which raised the amount of compensation for them from $30 to $80 a month.

"The passage of the Darrow bill," said Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the Legion, "was largely due to the work done by Legionnaires who visited Washington in its interest. General published reports at that time indicated that the Legion representatives confined their activities solely to the pending fourfold optional compensation bill. Results show that the needs of the disabled men always have stood first on the Legion's program and the organization is going right on working for these unfortunates, irrespective of what congress may or may not see fit to do with the problems of ex-service men as a whole.

"The passage of the Darrow bill will give great impetus to the Legion's co-operative plan to assist the federal board in getting every eligible disabled man into training at once, as many had refrained from taking training because of the inadequate compensation heretofore allowed."

SHE MAKES THE MOST CALLS

American Legion Headquarters' Switchboard Operator, Lula B. Vize, Is Known as "Sunshine."

The girl who "calls" more people and gets "called" oftener than anyone else at national headquarters of the Legion is Miss Lula B. Vize of Indianapolis. She has charge of the telephone switchboard and a sort of general information bureau adjoining the offices of the national commander. She offers complete proof of the fallacy of the theory that red, or "titian" hair is indicative of a fiery temper. Her perpetually sunny disposition has earned for her the office sobriquet of "Sunshine." Married? you ask. Well, as some facetious "buddy" might say: "You tell 'em, concrete; we're too mortified!"

Accepts Men From All Branches.

David W. Jameson Post No. 153, Philadelphia, which was originally started as a Chemical Service post, has in accordance with the desires of the state and national conventions abandoned the unit basis of membership, and now includes men from all branches of the service.

Should Be a Holiday.

Armistice day, November 11, should be a legal holiday throughout the United States, according to resolution adopted by the Great Falls Post No. 3, Great Falls, Mont. Copies of the resolution were forwarded to the Montana congressional delegation at Washington, signed by Charles Davidson, Aaron Stucht and R. J. Fitzpatrick.

Eye of the Ostrich.

The ostrich's eye is as large as an ordinary marble. He has microscopic vision and can see the most minute particle. The eyelid does not move over the eye. Instead there is a film which flashes across it from time to time, somewhat like the shutter of a camera.

Ammonia by New Process.

An enterprising American has secured from the Italian government a concession for the utilization of 300 horsepower of the Marmore cascades near Terni, about seventy miles from Rome, and maintains that he can turn out nitrogenous plant food for the Italian farmer at a cost as low as 1 lira per kilo (equivalent to $0.086 per pound, with the lira taken at its par exchange value of $0.193). It is said that the falls are capable of generating not less than 150,000 horsepower.

These are the cascades over which Byron waxed so eloquent in "Childe Harold's Pilgrimage." Alfred P. Dennis, commercial attache of the United States embassy in Rome, reports to the department of commerce that the only ingredients in the ammonia are water, air and electric energy.

Reality of Disease Germs.

Replying to a protest from Leo White, publicity department of the Christian Scientists, against remarks on the death from diphtheria of a girl under Christian Science treatment, the Journal of the American Medical Association says: "Had this nine-year-old girl been buried beneath a load of bricks, even Mr. White would have suggested, we believe, that before giving the injured child 'Christian Science' treatment—'absent' or 'present'—the bricks should be removed. What Mr. White fails to realize is that a Klebs-Loeffler bacillus is just as material an object as a brick. It does material damage, it is true, not by its material weight, but by the equally material toxins it produces."

Simple Telephony.

An interesting development in telephony is a new three-wire wall set which operates on two ordinary dry cells, says the Scientific American. The telephone itself is built for the use and pleasure of youngsters. The installation is very simple, as the telephones fasten to the walls with two screws and there is nothing more technical for the boy to do than to follow simple instructions in connecting the wire with the posts on each telephone box. The set will operate up to 1,000 feet, instead of the usual 100 or 200 feet, if two additional dry cells are employed.

Giving Him Room.

"Gracious! I didn't know you were going away."

"Yes, the doctor has ordered my husband to stop smoking, and I'm going to mother's for the next few weeks."—Judge (New York).

Home is the chief school of human virtues. Its responsibilities, joys, sorrows, smiles, tears, hopes and cares form the chief interest of human life.—Channing.

U. & D. TO PLAY F. & D. TONIGHT

The U. & D. are slated to play the F. & D. tonight at Hasbrouck Park in a Twilight League game. The game will be called at 6:45 o'clock. The league is fast drawing to a close and all indications point to the U. & D., the league leaders, again winning the pennant.

AT THE THEATRES.

"The River's End" Proves Treat At Keeney's.

Marshall Neilan's production of James Oliver Curwood's smashing story "The River's End" which opened a three day engagement at Keeney's yesterday is an exceptional treat in every way. It is a new story of God's country, of the snow wastes of the frozen north, of the edge of civilization, where there are no traditions and men meet life with all the strength of soul within them—virile men who may be good or bad, but whatever they are they are strong. That is why this story has such a tremendous appeal to every lover of good photoplays.

Gladys Leslie in "The Girl Woman" at the Auditorium tonight presents a mystery drama of a young and beautiful girl who grows up overnight to a shrewd far-sighted woman. Also programmed a Fox sunshine comedy of pep and laughter with pretty girls and everything. Tomorrow Dolores Cassinelli in "The Web of Deceit" and the William Duncan serial "The Silent Avenger."

Examinations Every Tuesday.

So urgent is the need for stenographers in the departments of the government at Washington that examinations are being held every Tuesday at 550 of the principal cities of the United States. At the Moran School it is a question of only a few months' preparation to qualify for one of these high grade, permanent, as well as lucrative positions in the employ of Uncle Sam. The pension law enacted by congress makes very generous provision for employes who remain in the service permanently.

Hotel Kitchen Occupies Acre.

The kitchen of one of the big hotels in New York is an acre in extent.

Tree of the New York Tenements.

The tree of the New York tenements is the ailantus, palmlike in its youth, brought originally from China for the gardens of the rich. It grows in discouraging surroundings, is defiant of smoke, does not even ask to be planted, but, Topsy-like, it "just grows." Cut it down, and it comes up again. It is said to have no insect enemies. An odd point in its appearance is that every branch points up.—R. and E. Stockton in Century Magazine.

Novel Use for Ice.

An engineer has invented the following method for making hollow concrete blocks. Hitherto it has been difficult to make large cavities in concrete, but it can be done, the engineer points out, by embedding blocks of ice in the mass of concrete and introducing small outlets for the escape of the water after melting. This method also makes unnecessary the constant moistening needed in concrete work, as it is automatically supplied by the melting ice.
